Maintenance Plans Worth It?

5 Reasons Why AC Maintenance Plans are worth it:

Keep Manufacturer Warranty

The first good reason to sign up for ac maintenance plans in Petaluma, CA, is because they will help you guarantee that your system is working according to the manufacturer's specifications.

Better Energy Efficiency

AC systems are prone to wear and tear. As the units wear out, more energy is required to produce the same heating and cooling effect. As a result, utility bills might spike if you have a damaged unit in need of ac repair. Reliable AC maintenance plans keep your AC unit running at optimal capacity.

Extend Equipment Lifespan

Maintenance plans do have a small cost per year but that's little compared to the investment needed to buy a newer unit due to unforeseen repairs and replacements.

Detect Small Issues Before They Grow

With regular AC maintenance, your AC contractor can notice any wear and tear effects that might result in more serious problems down the road. As such, AC maintenance prevents costly AC repairs in the future.

Priority Treatment on Service Calls

If you have a maintenance plan, you're going to get priority service. When you sign up for an air conditioning maintenance plan with Milano Mechanical, we make sure to put you first for any AC repairs or poor air quality needs in Petaluma, CA.
